Hotel Covington Debuts in Kentucky

A $22 million renovation and restoration has transformed Northern Kentucky's most fashionable department store into the region's most fashionable hotel. Vintage, free-standing clothing racks replace traditionally enclosed armoire in guestrooms—a nod to the building's past life as Coppin's Department Store—while the aubergine, sage, and navy color palette references traditional colors of Covington homes. The restaurant, Coppin's, is sure to be the area's most buzzed-about eatery thanks to Southern-inspired gastropub dishes like country ham with biscuits and bourbon honey. From $160; 638 Madison Ave.; 866-501-1700; hotelcovington.com.
